Rincon Ave., Campbell, a freshman majoring in agricultural engineering was among the 54 students at the University of California, Davis, chosen to attend a leadership conference at University Ski Lodge, at Norden last month. The conference opened the college year and emphasized how experience as a student leader at the University develops strong citizen leaders of tomorrow.

Orrie Grizzle, long-time barber in Campbell, last Thursday received approval of the Campbell Planning Commission to construct a marquee on his building located at 379-381 E. Campbell Ave. The marquee would extend over the sidewalk and would correspond to the one on the new building now under construction by the Ainsley Corportion adjacent to it.

Approval of the revised plans for the commercial-dwelling building of Yano T. Circo to be located on San Jose-Los Gatos Road, was postponed by the City Planners until a subsequent meeting. Circo, who plans to build a sporting goods store with apartments upstairs, has been granted a use permit and a zone variance but final approval has been held up pending a change in the parking facilities. Circo was not present at the meeting

Planners Go Out On Limb - Almost

City Planners just barely crawled out on the limb of the controversial Roosevelt Redwood last Thursday night. But they got right back before someone could saw it off.

Technically the Planners washed their hands of the future status of the tree, ruling that its destiny was an engineering problem and for that reason passed it on to the City Council, adding, however, that they had no objection to the tree remaining.

But they tempered their report to the Council with the statement that the tree planted by President Theodore Roosevelt in 1903, could be saved by creating a traffic island at the intersection of Campbell Ave. and Winchester Road.

This undertaking when the streets are eventually widened would be quite expensive, it was also noted. But the City Fathers should decide whether it was worth the chips. Not the Planners.

The Planners, however, were not unanimous in their viewpoint. Both Commissioners Les Harmon and Ted Solari felt they should not allow sentiment interfere with proper planning and voted against the recommendation.

United Campaign Drive Starts This Week in Campbell

More than 300 local volunteer citizens began ringing doorbells last Monday as part of the 1956-57 United Campaign to raise $478,966 to aid 30 worthy Red Feather agencies throughout the County.

Officials of the drive have set the Campbell quota at $10,000. A total of $6038 was raised in the area last year.

Give
The United Way

Some 25 communities will benefit from the money collected. The 1956 allocation to the Campbell Milk Fund from the Red Feather was $1800. The P. T. A. City Milk Fund received $1550, and the Campbell library got $500 from the combined agencies fund.

Mayor John M. Chargin signed a proclamation this week which asks all Campbell residents to cooperate and "generously give and contribute to the fund . . , so that the campaign will be a complete success".

Howard M. Lillingston will direct the campaign locally; Mrs. Earl H. Handley has been appointed residential chairman. The Campbell area has been divided into three areas: Area one takes in territory north of Campbell Ave. to the Winchester Road; area two, south of Campbell Ave.; and area three takes in the central part of town.

Area chairmen are: Miss Marion Hill, area one; Mrs. Hugh Whistler, area two; and Howard Atkinson, area three.

Planners Adopt Plan For Winchester Road

After viewing a strip-map which indicated the depth of the lots and what houses would have to be moved when Winchester Road is widened to 90-feet, the Campbell City Planners last Thursday night without a dissenting vote approved the Winchester Road plan-line. The plan had been presented originally to them by the city engineer's office on August 2 and was the fourth time at bat.

The plan, as adopted, now goes to the City Council where a public hearing will take place on it at a time yet to be set. The hearing on the Campbell plan-line, adopted at a previous meeting of the Commission, has been set for October 22.

Both Sides Equally

With the approval of the plan on Thursday, the Commissioners ended a long-drawn out hassle during which a number of alternate plans were discussed. The approved plan takes the land needed for the widening of the road equally from both sides of the street. Many residents along the street have objected to having their homes affected by the shallow setback that would result when the street was widened, but both the engineer and the Commissioners felt that taking property from both sides was basically more sound than attermpting to "jog" from side to side or taking it all off one side.

Nestor Barrett, planning consultant, presented the strip-map show on Thursday which was apparently the deciding factor in reaching a decision.

The presentation went on the premise that the allowable set-back should be 15-feet for houses on the street instead of the present 25-feet under the city ordinance. The ordinance would have to be amended in that respect.. Only those houses that would have less than 15-feet remaining for front yards after the street was widened would have to be moved.

Barrett's map indicated that approximately 14 houses on Winchester Road would have to be moved. It showed that it would be necessary to move every house from Latimer Ave. to the schools. It was pointed out that the schools presented no problem and that very little difficulty was anticipated in the commercial section.

Wrists Slapped

The strip-map show was enlivened briefly when Barrett interrupted his "lecture" to chide Chairman Homer Hyde for his apparent inattention at the moment. The chairman, at the time, was questioning the commission's secretary in an undertone. Hyde, however, later got revenge. During the discussion of another matter, this time with the chairman having the floor, Hyde pounced, using practically the same words that Barrett had used previously.

The motion for approval of the plan-line was made by Commissioner Hollis Logue and it was seconded by Commissioner Kenneth Priestley. Both these Commissioners had voted "no" at a prior meeting on a similar motion for approval.

AWAY FROM HER DESK

Mrs. Alys Riley, women's editor of The Press, underwent an operation last week and will be away from her desk at The Press for several weeks while she recuperates at home. In her absence, Bill Howarth, journalism intern from San José State assigned to the paper this semester, will fill in for her. Mrs. Riley via the phone will aid Howarth in his struggle to describe accurately what the bride wore and stuff like that.

Revolt Against System Fails

A short-lived "revolt" against the "system" went for naught at the Planning Commission meeting Thursday only because the Planners had a twinge of conscience and did not want to catch an innocent third party in a struggle for principles.

What provoked the "revolt" was the application of the Laurel Variety and Toy, a new store in the Campbell Shopping Center, for a building permit to erect a 2 x 8-foot neon sign. Under the new "system" not only is it necessary for all building permits to clear the Planning Commission but, in addition, they must also be checked beforehand by approximately six city officials.

In order to bring the matter to a head, Commissioners Homer Hyde, J. A. Tomlinson, Les Harmon, voted to postpone the ordinary routine approval of the sign because the application before them had not cleared all the channels of city officialdom. So Commissioners Hollis Logue, Kenneth Priestley and Ted Solari favored approval despite its incompleteness.

But when it was pointed out that they were making the store suffer by their stand "on principle", the Commissioners withdrew their objections and gave their blessing to the sign.

But still didn't like the "system".

Students Plan All-Out Effort For Blood Drive

Faculty and students of the Campbell High School District comprising the Blood Drive Committee recently announced plans for the first Blood Drive of the year to be held Monday, October 22 from 3:30 to 6 p.m. in Room 46 at the high school.

Miss Christina Flynn, who is directing the drive, reported that all possible facilities of the student body are being pooled to make the drive a success.

Junior Red Cross Chairmen are: Pat Geimer and Dave Andre. The Junior Red Cross will have charge of the baby sitting. Frances Williams and Dixie McMullins will be in charge. Handling telephoning and nurses' aids will be Ellen Youngren, Ruth Rutherford, Kathleen Ertel, and Sharon Hare.

Under the direction of Miss Betty Giltinan, the journalism department is taking care of the publicity in the newspapers, with Gretchen Grube and Linda Rolph assisting.

Future Business leaders of America is in charge of registering the donors. With Miss Ethel Oeser advising, Jackie Granata, Janet MacDonald and Donna Williams will take care of this activity.

Mrs. Adell Charlson's F.H.A. (Future Homemakers of America) group will have the following students acting as chairmen: Fran Rodriguez, canteen; Verla Raab, orange juice and issuing blood bottles; Laura Raab, Rest Period; Raymona Manning, Hostesses. There are 27 girls signed up to aid these committee chairmen.

Speakers are being sent to various civic club meetings by Mr. Braun, whose second and fourth period classes are preparing and delivering the speeches. Dave Andre will appear on T.V.

City Council Appoints Schmidt to Vacancy

Campbell's City Council, short one councilman since the resignation of Jim Arends who has moved outside the city limits, now has its full membership as a result of the Council's action Monday night. Charles A. Schmidt, 187 Carlyn Ave., export manager for the Valley View Packing Co., of San Jose is the new City Dad.

The search for the person to fill the council vacancy ended at the start of the meeting Monday with a motion made by Councilman Charles Rose that Schmidt, a resident of Campbell for 11 years, be appointed. His motion was seconded by Councilman Richard Morton and was passed unanimously. Schmidt immediately was sworn iinto office by City Clerk Dorothy Trevethan and participated in the remainder of the meeting.

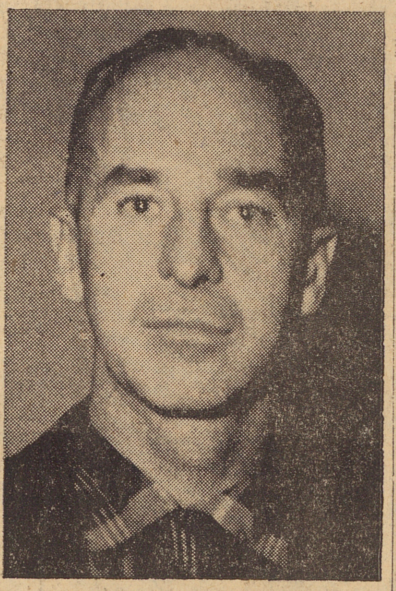
Many names had been suggested for the seat on the Council and Mayor John M. Chargin noted this fact in welcoming the new Councilman. He said that only one person could be appointed and that he felt the city was fortunate in getting a man of Schmidt's caliber to serve.

Chief among the other matters before the Council was the awarding of the contract for the widening of Hamilton Ave., from Central Ave. to Winchester Road. Leo P. Piazza Co. of San Jose, low bidder, with $77,759 got the approval to go ahead with the job. The company has nine-months to complete the project.

The same firm had the low bid of $11,650 for the long-awaited resurfacing of Winchester Road when bids were opened in the afternoon. The low bid was less than the estimate. Two other bids were received, one from the Raisch Co., for $13,600 and one from Kleinsmith for $16,400. The contract will be awarded next Monday when the Council meets in adjourned meeting.

In other actions; the Council:

1. Proclaimed the week beginning October 7 as "Red Feather Week".
2. Granted Evco Burglar Alarm Co., permission to run a line to the firehouse.
3. Postponed action on the Chamber of Commerce request for $300 for Christmas street decorations until a more complete breakdown of costs are received.



CHARLES A. SCHMIDT

Ex-Coach Gets City Dad Job

There are two "Charles" now on Campbell's City Council but the chances are that Charles A. Schmidt, who on Monday was appointed to the council vacancy created by the resignation of Jim Arends, will be tabbed "Coach" to distinguish him from Councilman Charles Rose.

Schmidt, 44, who will serve for the next two years and who has been a resident of Campbell for 11 years, is a graduate of both the Savage School of Physical Education in New York and Columbia University. He coached high school football, basketball and baseball at White Plains, New York, and during World War II as an Air Force captain was in charge of the physical education program at Miami Beach.

Although Schmidt has now left the coaching field (He is export sales manager of the Valley View Packing Co. of San Jose) he has continued his interest in sports. Locally he has umpired Little League games and is an active golfer.

With his wife, Alice, and their two children, age 8 and 10, he lives at 187 Carlyn. Mrs. Schmidt is a teacher in the Rosemary School and formerly taught at the Monroe School. The new Councilman has been active in school activities having served as president of the Rosemary Home and School Club and is currently secretary of the St. Lucy's Dad Club.

Council Questions Moving Plan of Classroom

It was discovered that a straight line is NOT the shortest distance between two points, especially if there are a couple of narrow bridges to cross on the way and moving a building is involved.

This was brought out at the Council meeting Monday night when the elementary school district applied for permission from the city to move a portable classroom from the Hamilton School to the Dover School.

Because the Council was not completely satisfied with the information or the route presented, approval for the move was not granted. The matter will come up again Monday night at a special meeting of the Council.

The route suggested by Charles Kelly, the mover, would follow Hamilton Ave. to Winchester Road to Camden Ave. thence to San Jose-Los Gatos Road and up to Hamilton again and over to the Dover School.

Although this route was the long way round, it was pointed out that the narrow bridge on Hamilton Ave. between the school and San Jose-Los Gatos Road made it more difficult in the long run than if the longer route was used.

During the discussion of the application, Councilman Richard Morton directed some barbed comments at school district officials. It was poor planning, he thought that necessitated the moving of a classroom from one spot to another just after it was barely completed.

Neal Royer, assistant superintendent of schools, representing the school district, explained that the move from one school to another would alleviate double sessions at the Dover School and the extra classroom was not needed at Hamilton.

C. E. Bradley, district business manager, added later that there are an additional 1000 school children in the district and it is sometimes difficult to pinpoint where the peak enrollment is going to hit.

Bradley added that he felt that the district planning was excellent because in the entire district, despite the unprecedented growth there are only three grades in double session now, one at Dover, and two at Cherry Lane. The move to Dover would elminate one and the Cherry Lane situation will be eleminated when the additional classrooms there now under construction are completed. By January 1, the business manager said, all double sessions in the district will have been eliminated.

Morton also took exception to the fact that the district had not paid the standard moving fee required. He said such fees are only waived when the state is involved.

Chief of Police Robert Locke suggested that the amount of time it would require to move the building might create a traffic problem. He was not sure whether he could allow for the necessary manpower from his department. It was estimated that it would take eight hours to complete the job. He thought also that the school district was not allowing enough notice for the move.

W. L. (Bud) Morser questioned whether the location at the Dover School was ready for the new building when and if it got there. He thought that it would take almost two weeks to get the site ready.

The school district had asked that the move take place next Monday and Royer explained that district personnel would do the work of connecting and that no contractor would be involved.

Councilman Morton said he was not in favor of having buildings "wandering around like a kite" and that he questioned the emergency of the matter. On one hand, he added, the move would alleviate the squawks of mothers whose children were now on double session while on the other there would be plenty of squawks from people going to or from work who would be held up by the move.

It was finally decided to postpone action until Monday's special meeting at the Firehouse with the understanding that city officials concerned would meet with school district officials beforehand to iron out all the wrinkles.

Organist Guild Meets Sunday at Los Gatos Church

The San Jose Chapter of the American Guild of Organists will hold its first regular meeting of the new season this Sunday at 3 p.m. at St. Luke's Episcopal Church in Los Gatos.

The meeting will consist of a special Guild Service, which is held once a year and is open to the public. The Guild Service will be followed by an organ recital given by Miss Beverly Hayes, noted organist, of St. Helena, Calif.

San Jose Chapter of the American Guild of Organists was organized in 1923 and is a subsidiary of the national organization which was established in New York City in 1896. The Guild is chartered by the Board of Regents of the University of New York, which authorizes it to conduct examinations to evaluate the training and the attainments of the organists and choirmasters who are candidates for the degrees of the Guild.

The goal of the Guild is to improve standards of organ playing and choral work in the Church service and in recital playing. Model services are presented in many parts of the country; festival services are performed by combined choirs sometimes with orchestra; recitals are given by resident organists and visiting virtuosos, including foreign artists.

The Guild examinations constitute the vital work and represent the true standards of the Guild with the highest Guild examination, that for Fellowship, is one of the most comprehensive musical examinations given in this country. Its successful completion is a mark of distinguished achievement.

Recently installed officers of San Jose chapter are Clifford E. Hansen, dean; Richard Jesson, subdean; Violet Thomas, registrar; Mary Gillespie, secretary; Inez Vince Jefferson, treasurer; Iva Rodgers, financial secretary; Ruth Monsen and Alice B. Oltz, auditors; and William N. Reid, Marion Frasier, Kathleen S. Bergeron, board members.

The San Jose Chapter has Redwood City, Menlo Park, Palo Alto, Los Altos, Mountain View. San Jose, Gilroy, Campbell, Los Gatos, Santa Cruz and Watsonville in its territory. Members planning to attend from this vicinity are Mrs. E. J. Bergeron, Mrs. Mary Gillespie, Mrs. Ruth M. Monsen. Mrs. Bergeron, 155 E. Eight Counties Join in State Sales Tax Deal

Eight additional California counties (including Santa Clara) and 44 additional cities have joined the ranks of local governments for which the State Board of Equaliation will administer sales taxes. The total number of such local governments now comprise 24 counties and 175 cities.

In the October-December quarter of 1956, the locally-imposed sales taxes of Santa Clara, Contra Costa, Del Norte, El Dorado, Humboldt, Lassen, San Dego, and Trinity Counties, together with those of 43 of their cities, and La Puente—a newly incorporated city in Los Angeles County—are state-administered for the first time.

From Del Norte County on the Oregon line to San Diego County on the Mexican border, 23 of the counties levying a state-administered one per cent sales tax will form a contiguous pattern. Lassen County is the only state-administered county which is not situated adjacent to one of the other contracting counties.

Of the remaining 34 counties, only those of Butte, Colusa, Yuba, Nevada, San Francisco, and Santa Barbara do not adjoin one or more counties that are levying local sales taxes. All but five of the California cities of more than 50,000 population—Fresno, Riverside, San Francisco, San Mateo, and Santa Barbara—will have state-administered local sales taxes.

Approximately three-fourths of the State's taxable retail sales will be subject to locally-imposed state-administered taxes during the October-December quarter. The Board estimates that it will collect $42,000,000 of local sales taxes on sales made in this period, $36,000,000 of which will go to cities and $6,000,000 to counties.

Local sales taxes in the 16 counties whose sales tax ordinances will be in effect during the next quarter will be collected at a uniform one per cent rate, the only rate which counties are authorized to levy. Retailers will remit 4 per cent of their taxable sales

FRanklin Numbers Get Nationwide Direct Distance Dials November 3

Starting November 3, nationwide direct distance dialing is in store this fall for persons with FRanklin 8 telephone numbers, according to Pacific Telephone officials.

Nationwide dialing already is available to telephone customers in the area having ANdrews or ESsex numbers.

An electronic marvel, direct distance dialing means a person here can dial a call to New York or hundreds of other cities and towns across the country with little more effort than it takes to dial a local call.

By Electronics

Pacific Telephone Manager T. K. Nordheim explained that direct distance dialing is made possible by electronic equipment that connects the call, keeps track of how far it went and how long it lasted, and then adds up the charges.

All the caller has to do is spin the dial a few extra times.

Nordheim said detailed dialing instructions would be mailed to the FRanklin 8 customers along with a list of many of the dialable points.

How To Dial

But he gave this brief rundown on how to dial a long distance call:

1. Check to see if the community is dialable. Even if it's not on the list, it may be dialable. Your operator will be glad to help. However, unless the number you want to call has a prefix name and five numerals, (such as those here) it cannot be dialed directly.
2. Dial the numbers 112. This channels the call into the special long distance equipment.
3. Then dial the regular telephone number if the call is to a place nearby in the North Coastal region of California. The call will be connected in a matter of moments.
4. If the call is to another part of the country it will be necessary to dial 112 and then an "area code number" before dialing the regular telephone number. The area code numbers will be supplied to FRanklin 8 customers. By dialing the code number the call is sent to that particular part of the country called.

Operator on Line

For FRanklin 8 customers, an operator will come on the line to ask the number of your own telephone. That is, the one from which the call is being placed.

Nordheim pointed out that the direct distance dialing system for FRanklin 8 differs slightly from those with ANdrews and ESsex numbers.

For ANdrews and ESsex there is no need to dial the numerals 112. The difference is due to a different type of dialing equipment used.

Twelfth School Waits State OK

Plans for Campbell Union School District's twelfth school plant, the Parkway School, located on Saratoga Ave. between Pruneridge and Stevens Creek Road are now awaiting the approval of the State, C. E. Bradley, district business manager, reported this week. When the approval is received, bids will be let for the school.

The district is still in the process of acquiring the land, through condemnation proceedings, Bradley said, but this will not hold up the building program.

The trustees of the district have also authorized the architect to draw up plans for two more schools, the Blackford School, located off Blackford lane and the Lynhaven School on Cypress Ave. The district also acquired still another site for a school making a total of 15 which is hoped will satisfy the requirements for the foreseeable future.

First Step Announced

New Smog Chief for Bay Area Plans Crackdown on Public Dump Burning

Burning at public dumps will be halted as the first step toward eliminating the air pollution menace in the Bay Area.

This was the forecast made this week by Benjamin Linsky, newly-appointed control officer for the Bay Area Pollution Control District, which includes Santa Clara County. Linsky, former head of the Detroit Smoke Abatement Bureau, officially took over his duties last week as Bay Area air pollution control officer.

Linsky pointed out that his first job as control officer will be to conduct surveys to determine causes of air pollution. After this is accomplished, he said, he will recommend to the district board of directors that rules and regulations be adopted to control sources of contamination.

Undoubtedly, he declared, the first "rule" will beagainst open dump burning, an obvious source of pollution which is affecting visibility in the Bay Area. Although the legislation under which the district was established does not provide criminal law enforcement for violators, the injunction procedure is available to obtain compliance with the rules and regulations. The action against dump burning will probably be taken within the next 90 days, Linsky added.

"The five-mile visibility, which is considered adequate in Eastern Metropolitan areas, is apparently not good enough for Bay Area residents who take great pride in their cherished climate and unobstructed view, Linsky observed.

Because of the cooperative attitude of Bay Area officials and citizens, the matter of enforcement of rules and regulations should be relatively easy, Linsky said.

A good public information program aimed at selling people the importance of maintaining high standards should eliminate the necessity for "cracking down" on violators.

This type of selling program worked successfully in Detroit, Linsky said, where fines were levied in only two cases during the past eight years.

The new control officer, who established an outstanding record in Detroit, said the Bay Area control program offers an exciting challenge to eliminate the smog problem completely. He had a word of praise for Bay Area officials who decided to attack the problem of air pollution on an area-wide basis—"the only practical and rational approach to the problem."

Downtown Plans Get Green Light

"Operation Face-Lift" for the downtown business section got the green light from the Campbell Planning Commission Thursday night when the Planners approved the building plans of William Lloyd.

It was the second time that the plans had been presented. Approval was delayed at a prior meeting because the plans had been drawn for the incorrect fire zone. There was also the added problem of how the Campbell Ave. setback problem would be settled. Lloyd's plans call for the building to be constructed to the present street-line while the new plan-line for Campbell Ave. (still to be officially adopted) necessitates a 10-feet setback.

Lloyd's plans were given approval with the understanding that he would move the new building back when and if the street was ever widened.

LAW IN ACTION

BALANCE

From the first our constitution has often been an election issue. For this Thomas Jefferson would beam at us; since for him each new generation, after full debate, should roll its own.

Unlike other man-made laws, our constitution created the government itself, ordered its parts, and defined their scope. Only then did this government take over and make the laws for us.

Our constitution lets no one rise above the law. Within its frame all officers do their lawful work—from the citizen who is an office holder at large with rights and duties not enjoyed by other people, to the President himself, the Congress and the judges on the Supreme Court.

A constitution comes to life and lives on only through the consent of the governed who alone can change it.

Up until ours, most governments muffed the problem of power and ended up in tyranny and ruin. Even our Articles of Confederation fell apart. Our constitution (and those of the separate states) is a bold try at giving government enough power to climb the steepest grades, and enough brakes to keep it from going over the cliff.

The British saw the problem as a tug-of-war between lawmakers and the executive who took charge when Parliament went home.

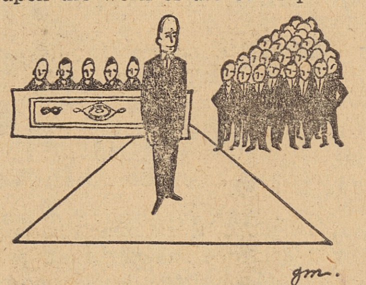
But America saw the problem as a pull between the separate states and the people (both as majority and minorities) on one side, against the central government (Congress and the President) on the other.

Our founders set up a Supreme Court to see that each enjoyed its full power but did not encroach upon the work of the other parts.



The balance: The executive enforces the laws but can veto an act of Congress; and Congress makes the laws and can over-ride the veto or even impeach the President (but never has). At election time, the people may break up any undue power build-up. And the Supreme Court, through cases coming up for review from lower courts, can keep laws in line within the constitution.

Today, as at each turning point of American history, our constitution itself comes under public scrutiny through wide discussion and publicity, and this, in the end, gives it its vigor. Without the people's critical backing—through full debate all the time—neither Congress, the President, nor the Supreme Court could last very long.

Note: California lawyers offer this column for you to know about our laws.

PLANNING ON PLANTING?

GARDENER'S CHECK LIST

By The California Association of Nurserymen

REMINDERS

1. Regular or spring flowering Sweet Peas should be planted at this time. A little extra effort spent in proper soil preparation will pay big dividends in flowers.

2. Steer Manure and Bone Meal are particularly recommended as fertilizer for sweet peas.

3. After the sweet pea seeds are planted, keep them moist but not soggy. Always irrigate—never sprinkle.

4. While the plants are young their major enemies are snails and birds. Snails can be readily controlled by baits. A covering of wire meshing over the Sweet Pea row is the best protection against birds.

5. The blooming season can be prolonged by picking the flowers, before they go to seed.

Tulpis

From the ancient Persian word "toliban", meaning "turban", came the word "Tulip", and it is believed that the Persians were the first to cultivate the Tulip in gardens, probably having obtained bulbs from the wild Tulip species that grows native throughout Asia. These bulbs passed on to Turkey, Vienna and to Holland before the end of the 16th century. In Holland they were hybridized, and caused national hysteria. Bulbs of broken types (those that have become striped or blotched by a virus) sold for as high as three thousand dollars, and the self-colored varieties, the original Darwins and Cottage Tulips went unnoticed except by the country people who grew them in their cottage garden in Holland, England and Ireland. From these gardens they were eventually collected by Tulip fanciers who continued their development.

Today, gardeners throughout the world enjoy a great variety of Tulip species and hybrids, the latter of ten or more classes. One of the largest Tulip families is the Darwin, which includes shades of red, purple, pink, white and yellow. Breeder Tulips are the modern version of the old Dutch Tulips, containing "art" shades of brown, bronze, orange, purple and recently yellow and pink. The Cottage class today includes crosses with Darwins and Breeders and offers flowers of yellow, red, pink, and the whitest of whites. Another Tulip class, the Parrot or Dragon, is so named because its flower head resembles a parrot's or dargon's. These flowers are large with twisted and feathered petals and there are always green shades mingled with the brilliant colors—pink, scarlet, salmon, brown, yellow, rose and purple.

Other Tulip classes include the doubles, early and late blooming, in shades of yellow, pink, orange, violet, lavender, white, red and salmon. Florists most frequently force bloom the Single Early Tulips and they can be obtained in pots any time after the New Year. These also bear beautifully colored flowers of burnt orange, vermillion-scarlet, carmine-rose, apricot. Broken Tulips, mentioned earlier, are bizarre in their coloring—violet-brown and yellow, brown and gold and black and gold, purple and lilac over waxy white. These strange stripes and flakings are caused by a virus which actually does not harm the flower itself.

There is also a group of Tulpis known as Botanical or Species, developed from Europe to Japan. This group includes the Water-Lily Tulip (T. Kaufmanniana) and a fragrant one, T. sylvestris or florentina.

Tulip culture is an easy one, the California Association of Nurserymen assures gardeners. These fall months are ideal planting time; choose a bed in the sun (except where May temperatures are unusually high) and set each bulb about 6 inches deep and 6 to 12 inches apart. (In warm winter areas it's a good idea to plant them deeper and, also, not until November.) Dig your tulip bed deep and work in limestone and old manure if the soil needs it. Be sure there's a layer of clean soil between the bulbs and manure! it's best to set the bulbs themselves right in a handful of sand and then cover with clean soil.

If there's a chance of gophers or mice, place the bulbs in a wire mesh basket. Tulips can be left in the ground for several seasons unless they show signs of deteriorating. Many authorities believe, however, that the bulbs should be dug up after the leaves die down and allowed to rest in a cool place.

Hyacinths

For a formal or informal garden setting, the hardy Hyacinth (Hyacinthus orientalis) is a fragrant and colorful choice. An early bloomer, the Hyacinth flowers in blue and purple shades, pinks and reds, yellow and white.

The California Association of Nurserymen suggests that gardeners use the Hyacinth in color masses in the foreground of the shrub border as well as in the perennial garden. For a rich spring fragrance throughout the garden scatter Hyacinths about in drifts. The Hyacinth is sun loving but will tolearte moderate shade. Plant it in the early fall months in light, enriched soil—bonemeal is a good fertilizer to use. If your garden soil is heavy place a handful of sand at the base of each bulb. Set each bulb about five or six inches deep and as far apart. Where gophers are a problem plant the bulbs in wire baskets.

Some of the named varieties of the Common Hyacinth available include Forget-Me-Not and King of the Blues, among the blue and purple shades; La Victoire, a carmine-rose color; and Yellow Hammer, a creamy yellow. Albatros and L'-Innocence are good representatives of the white group.

Two other members of the Hyacinth family are the Dutch Roman or French Roman Hyacinths and the Azure Hyacinth (Hyacinthus azureus). The Roman Hyacinth has small flowers and is very easy to force bloom. The miniature Azure Hyacinths are delightful in a rock garden. Their delicate blue bells taper gracefully to a point while the Roman features clusters of tiny drooping bells.

Try some or all of these Hyacinths in your garden. Your nurseryman will have varieties of all colors ready for you to plant now.

Cinerarias

Although a perennial, the Florists Cineraria actually blooms like an annual, and it is as an annual that this shade loving flower is planted throughout the state.

The Cineraria plant is bushy with large, dark green leaves and clusters of daisy-like flowers in soft and vivid shades of pink, white, lavender, blue, purple carmine and rose. The Star Cineraria (C. stellata) is a taller variety with smaller flowers and is more often used for informal plantings. Multiflora nana strain makes as good a pot plant flower as the Florist's. The Florist's is also a fine selection for under trees and in protected areas.

If you garden in mild winter areas now is the time to set out small plants of Cineraria, recommends the California Association of Nurserymen. Wait until spring in cold areas. Cinerarias like rich, light, well-prepared soil with generous amounts of leaf mold

Preceding the bride were bridesmaids dressed in aqua crystalette gowns and carrying yellow carnations. The matron of honor was Mrs. Sandra Kravucherco. She was attired in an aqua crystalette gown, and bore a bouquet of aqua carnations.

The reception was given at the Red Shirts Club House, and was attended by more than 100 friends and relatives. The hall was decorated with streamers and white bells.

The bride's going-away ensemble consisted of mint-green suit, black accessories and a light rose-colored coat.

Mrs. Wagner is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Alford of 15101 San Jose-Los Gatos Road, Los Gatos. She attended Los Gatos High School and Capuchino High in San Bruno. She is presently employed at the First National Bank of San Jose.

Lodges to Bring Bloodmobile Here

Members will be able to donate blood to the organizations' special reserve if they so specify when they give, according to Mrs. Thomas Flabager, chairman of Rebekah's blood bank drive.

The bloodmobile visit was announced at the Ada Rebekah's meeting last week. It was also announced that the combined donations of the Odd Fellows and the Rebekah Lodge were used to purchase some blankets, three electrical appliances and some dishtowels to be sent to the Agnews State Hospital.

The materials will be used in the Agnews rehabilitation program. The hospital is purchasing a house on Jackson Street in Santa Clara for use in rehabilitation work. Men will be allowed to live in the house while they ease themselves back into community life. Service clubs around the area have been donating furnishings and various essentials for the home.

ROTARY HEARS TALK ON PECULIAR LAWS

Martin S. Walsh, one of Campbell's best known attorneys spoke to the Rotary Club at its regular meeting last Monday noon. His topic was "Odd and Interesting Law Cases."

Some of these "gems" are as follows: If you visit a girl in Maryland more than six times you must marry her: A law once on the books in Ohio states: "When two trains meet at a crossing neither shall move until the other leaves".

In England the death penalty is meted out to he who kills a fairy. In Illinois English is not the official language of the courts—American is.

Other happenings at the meeting concerned the Rotary sponsored safety campaign. Douglas Fitzgerald, campaign chairman, journeyed to Sacramento to attend the Governor's safety conference. The next phase of the campaign is scheduled for November when an essay and poster contest is being staged in cooperation with the California Optometric Society. Camden and Campbell high schools will participate in the affair, and the Club is providing prizes. Bob Jasmine is in charge of the contest.

A Community Project

A drive is underway in this community to build a memorial hall on the grounds of the Congregational Church in honor of the late Rev. Joseph H. Bennett, for 18 years pastor of the chuch.

We are completely in accord with this movement for, in our opinion, it is much more that just a Congregational Church undertaking. The entire community should be interested and we feel should assist in making the drive successful.

The Rev. Bennett, who died in April of this year, came to Campbell directly from England in 1927. It was here that he organized the "Wolf Cub Pack" patterned after a similar English organization. His local group was the forerunner of the Cub Scout movement in the United States.

Thus it can be said that Campbell was the birthplace of Cub Scouting in this country. We sincerely believe that it is a distinction of which we all should be proud.

That is why we claim that, although the proposed hall will be constructed on the Congregational Church grounds, the project is actually community-wide in scope.

"The Rev. Joseph H. Bennett Memorial Hall" should be something that we can all point to with pride. And when pointing with pride, if we can add that we had a part in making it a reality, it will be that much better.

We endorse the drive and urge all those who can to contribute their time, money and efforts so that it will be a fitting memorial to the man who did so much for the youngsters not only in Campbell but throughout the entire country.

A Poor Exhibition

The recent squabble on the Santa Clara County Board Supervisors involving ethics, salaries and a legal notice leaves us more than a little disgusted and exasperated with some of the men we have entrusted to run the county government.

As you know as a result of former Chairman Sam Della Maggiore's outburst over the way three of his fellow members handled a proposed charter amendment to boost their salaries, the three supervisors in question ganged up on him and booted Big Sam out of his chairman's job.

Before they kicked him out, however, they gave Sam a chance to apologize for his alleged remarks "something smells" or words to that effect. But Sam wouldn't trade.

The actions of the four members of the board reminded us of a bunch of little youngsters and their neighborhood brawls. It seemed that they let their petty jealousies, and their personal dislikes get in the way of their good judgment.

In our opinion the board members cheapened themselves to a degree by their actions and by their shoutings.

We have nothing against the principle of more dough for the supervisors provided they earn it. They are now being paid $6,000 now for part-time work and, if they thought the work demanded more of their time, we agree that they should be compensated for it.

There is certainly nothing wrong with asking the people to approve the raise in pay to $9,000.

But if they tried, the three members, Supervisors Levin, Gaspar and Brown, couldn't have proceeded to get their raise in a more stupid manner. We are certain there was nothing dishonest in their motives.

But when three grown men entrusted with the administration of the county haven't the foresight to see what repercussions would result from their informal "conference" and premature letting out of the legal notice (which incidentally was published an hour before the board meeting and showed the wrong vote and the wrong salaries), then we are a little worried about their foresight in other matters.

Neither do we hold any brief for the outbursts of Della Maggiore unless he was attempting to establish a reputation for tactlessness and complete lack of diplomacy. This he did right well.

All in all it was a poor exhibition all the way around. We sincerely hope it does not happen again.

The only bright part of the entire picture for our money was the manner in which Supervisor Oran L. Slaght from this district handled himself during the hassle. He sided with Sam but not in the blustering vociferous manner used by the former chairman.

While the others dropped a little in our estimation, Supervisor Slaght gained, if there is any comfort in that to him, to the county or to us.

We never cease to be amazed in this business at the importance of little words and how easily it is to impart the wrong meaning by the use, misuse or the overlooking of one solitary preposition.

A case in point happened in our paper a few weeks ago. In the front page "on the line in Campbell" column, it was noted that a number of local merchants had attended the fashion showing in San Francisco.

Among those attending was Mrs. Anne Levine of the Rozanne Shop, 329 E. Campbell Ave. The news release of the fashion show came out of San Francisco and listed that Mrs. Anne Levine was accompanied by Mrs. G. Kersen.

Here is the way the item appeared: "Mrs. Anne Levine, owner and Mrs. G. Kersen, buyer, of the Rozanne Shop attended . . ."

Technically there is nothing wrong with that report but Anne told us that a number of people read it to mean that Mrs. Kersen, (who, incidentally is Anne's sister) was buying Anne's store. She said a number of her customers were concerned and called her about it.

That, of course, was not true. Mrs. Kersen simply was listed on the register list at the fashion show as a buyer for the store (just like downtown). You see how the meaning can be misconstrued by one little preposition. Although basically is was correct as it appeared, we readily admit that it would have been better to have said "buyer for" instead of "buyer of".

Excuse please, Anne.

Speaking of wrong impressions we recently heard from a fellow member of the craft that Don Matchen, former editor and publisher of the Los Altos News, after selling his paper in Los Altos was now selling sprinkler systems to ranchers.

Although we have nothing against either salesmanship or sprinklers, it didn't exactly ring true at the time we heard it, despite the fact that most newspapermen we know are unpredictable to an extreme.

Don was in this week so we asked him about his new occupation, explaining that we heard he was now selling irrigation sprinklers.

In a vague sort of way, he said, the story was true. Hs is affiliated with a cloud-seeding, rainmaking firm that contracts with various counties to make rain out of hail or something like that.

So there is water involved and farmers are affected, if one stretched a couple of points.

But Don didn't pop in on us to sell us either a sprinkler system of a cloud-seeding deal.

On the side, he is assisting in getting information to the public about the proposed north county building program on the seven-acre site purchased three years ago by Santa Clara County located between Palo Alto and Mountain View.

This particular project will be on the November ballot as County Bond Measure No. 5 and will be for a bond issue of $835,000. Plans call for a 38,000 square-foot building, plus a 9000 square foot basement, to house superior court chambers, judicial court offices, jury commissioner, and eight branches of the county offices.

We were informed that the county is now renting separate buildings in Palo Alto to house the necessary county offices and that the rental cost of a 10-year period will be at least $172,000 to the county taxpayers and because of other factors involved it will be much cheaper to build.

It seems that through miscalculations and low estimates the county bond issue that was passed in 1955 has left no funds for the north end building program, although voters were led to believe, we understand, that, if the bonds passed, money in the county building fund would be freed for construction in the north end.

We thought Don's presentation of the arguments for the passage of County Bond Measure No. 5 was pretty sound. We go along with the proponents, although we don't like to add to our tax bills any more than the next guy.

We are a great believer in the bond method of paying in a fast growing area rather than the pay-as-you-go procedure. Pay-as-you-go just can't keep up with the demand and besides it doesn't always catch those who will be getting the full use of the facilities.

What bothers us, however, is just how and the heck are we all going to take off enough time on election day to mark our ballots. Besides the various candidates running for office, there are 19 state propositions to mark plus seven county ones.

It will be quite a chore to vote intelligently.

William Lloyd, owner of a number of business buildings in downtown Campbell, got the green light from the Planning Commission last Thursday to go ahead with his remodeling and building plans.

We are convinced that Lloyd's program will be the biggest boon to the town that has occurred in recent years. We are happy that he and the commissioners overcame the one stumbling block to the plans, i. e. the setback problem based on the if and when widening of Campbell Ave. takes place.

Lloyd has served notice on his present tenants that they would have to find new quarters and there has been and will be quite a movement on that portion of the main drag that is affected.

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Hansen of the Taste-Good Bakery move across the street, and Jimmy Arnold's Meats moved into the main store in San Jose.

A new twist developed, however, in the cast of the necessary exodus from the Cy Penhall's barber shop.

Cy had previously purchased a building down the street east of the Towne Pride Market where he has now set up shop. Denver Miranda, who had been associated with Cy for a number of years, has set up his business in the opposite direction. He is now located on Winchester Road just across from the Aero Pharmacy.

So there are two signs on the window of the Lloyd building telling of the locations (on the opposite sides of the town) of the two barbers who formerly occupied the premises.

We have been tempted to sneak into the old building and make just one sign. It would have two big arrows pointing in opposite directions.

And underneath the arrows the sign could read: "DENVER WENT THATAWAY . . . CY WENT THATAWAY".

Noted Reporter Opens Forum in San Jose Sunday

He will speak on "My World Report—Domestic and Foreign".

An officially accredited U. S. War Correspondent, Morley has just completed his third straight assignment around the world in the past three years.

He covered the recent uprisings against Communism behind the Iron Curtain . . . the crisis in the Near-East . . . the savage attacks of the Mau Mau in Africa . . . the war in Indo-China . . . and the explosive events in Korea, before and after the Armistice. He has covered the Korean War by land, sea and air, having made twelve trips to Korea since 1950.

The non-sectarian, non-profit Forum will present John Morley to the public without admission charge, and the audience will be invited to participate in a question and answer period. A free-will offering will be taken.

THE BEST OF RIDES—FOR FOLKS OR FREIGHT

REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS
TENTH DISTRICT, CALIFORNIA

Whenever the House of Representatives is in session, visitors will notice a black and silver emblem of office on a pedestal of green marble at the right of the Speaker of the House. This is the mace, a bundle of 13 thin ebony rods, bound with silver and topped by a silver globe by an American Eagle.

From the moment the Speaker raps the gavel for order, the mace begins to play a silent but important part in the proceedings. While the House itself remains in session, the mace is kept in position at the Speaker's right, but it is removed to a lower pedestal by the desk of the Sergeant at Arms when the House resolves itself into a Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union. Members coming to the floor can thus tell by a glance at the position of the mace whether the House is in session or in committee.

Originally a weapon of war, the mace became a symbol of office in ancient Rome. An Axe, bound in a bundle of rods, was carried as symbol of the consular office to indicate the power to punish wrongdoing. They introduced the custom into Britain, then a Roman province, and when, in due time, the House of Commons evolved, the Roman fasces became the mace. In early days of that parliament, the Commons were allowed to meet only with the King present, but as sessions became more frequent, the mace was carried in as a symbolic representation of the crown.

In our own history, there are few instances where the mace has been used to establish order, but it has been recorded that when individaul members of the House became turbulent and seemed beyond the Speaker's control, the Sergeant at Arms, on order of the Speaker, lifted the mace from its pedestal and "presented" it before the offending person. So great was the respect to the mace as symbol of legislative authority that order always was promptly restored.

California Newspaper Chief Asks Voters to Defeat Proposition 12

Defeat of Proposition 12, a constitutional amendment on the November ballot, was called for this week in the interest of protecting the right of the people to be fully informed by their government before being obligated by public bonded dept.

Seymour Sterling, president of the California Newspaper Publishers Association, said that Proposition 12 would permit presenting state bond issues in unlimited amounts to the public without giving public notice. The Publishers' leader, who publishes a semi-weekly in Sanger, said that approval of the proposition would be dangerous, not alone as to state bond issues. He said it would set a precedent which might lead to destruction of all requirements that adequate notice be given to voters prior to placing on the ballot bond issues or other matters to be voted on by the people.

Wrong Philosophy

"This sort of legislation is typical of the bureaucratic philosophy that 'the less the public knows, the better",—at least the better for those who wish a minimum of interference from the tax-paying public in connection with their governmental actions."

The proposal would eliminate the requirement that the state give notice through publication in at least one newspaper in every county of state bond issues scheduled to appear on the election ballot. It says: "Full publicity as to matters to be voted upon by the people is afforded by setting out the complete text of the proposed laws, together with arguments for and against them in a ballot pamphlet . . . . ."

Lengthy Proposition

Sterling pointed out that the ballot pamphlet is crowded with many lengthy propositions, and often is misplaced before it is thoroughly read by the voters. He charged that only listing the proposed bond issue in this pamphlet is a better way of burying the facts than of making them readily available to the public through their newspapers, the media to which they historically look for analysis and facts concerning matters to be voted on at the election.

Legion Condemns

The California Department of the American Legion, at its 1956 convention, condemned Proposition 12, calling it a backward step in the effort supported by the Legion to assure a fully informed electorate on all vital ballot measures.

"The Proposition would favor unsound measures and would work to the detriment of sound, honest legislation of benefit to the people." The Legion said, adding that "sound legislation is benefited by full publicity and full discusion on the part of the public."

"Only improper and unwise legislation need hide behind withholding information and avoiding the use of mass media to fully inform the people," the Legion said in urging a "No" vote on Proposition 12.

Spartans Tangle With Stanford On Grid Saturday

The Palo Alto air will probably be full of footballs Saturday as San Jose State and Stanford renew their intracounty rivalry in a game starting at 2 p.m.

National Collegiate Athletic Bureau statistics show the Spartans ranked second in the nation in passing with an average of 258 yards per game while the Indians are third with an average of 217. Stanford, however, has attempted more passes, completed more and thrown more touchdown passes than any other team in the nation.

If the two teams live up to their seasonal performance, there will be a total of 66 passes thrown with 37 completed for five touchdowns.

On an individual basis, Stanford's John Brodie is the nation's top passer with 48 completions in 78 attempts. His tosses have accounted for 535 yards and five touchdowns. The Spartans' Bob Reinhart, playing in one less game, has completed 26 of 42 for 380 yards and four touchdowns and ranks fifth behind Brodie in number of completions. Brodie has had five intercepted while Reinhart has not yet had one of his aerials picked off by opponents. Not to be overlooked is another Spartan quarterback, Marv McKean, who has hit on 8 of 14 passes for 117 yards.

Art Powell of San Jose and Stanford's Paul Camera are tied for fourth in the national statistics in pass receiving. Both have caught 10 passes.

Halfback Harvel Pollard, with 93 yards, and fullback Pat Hiram, 50 yards, and Tuck Halsey, 22 yards, are the top Spartan runners.

This is the 14th game in a series which started in 1900. Stanford has won all but one, the 19-14 triumph chalked up by the Spartans in 1954.

This game and all Spartans games will be broadcast on Radia games will be broadcast on Radio Santa Cruz 1080 with Bob Blum at the Play By Play microphone.

Campbell, Santa Clara Gridders Deadlock in League Opening Game

By Richard Ferguson

Brick wall against brick wall best describes the game between the Campbell Buccaneers and the Santa Clara High Panthers which ended in a 0-0 tie at Townsend Field Saturday night. Injuries were common as the teams battled for yardage but found no openings.

Tension was at a feverish pitch from the opening kick, which Campbell received on their 30 yard line, until the final gun sounded. Cal Vargas was hurt on the second play of the game but remained in the game. Campbell fumbled on their own 30 and the Panthers took over.

Montes, Costello, and Lister of Santa Clara combined to gain one first down only to fumble to Campbell on the next play. Held to only 4 yards by a powerful Panther line the Bucs were forced to kick from deep in their own territory. Mike Profit booted the ball to the 50 yard line where Santa Clara took over only to be stopped by an equally powerful Campbell line. Shultz for the Panthers placed the ball on the Bucs 10 yard line for a repeat of the last four plays.

Profit again got the Bucs out of trouble with a punt of 60 yards to the Panthers 20 yard line. The quarter ended before the Panthers could make any headway into the Bucs territory.

The second quarter started with the Bucs holding the Panthers to 4 yards and forced the Panthers to kick from their own 24 yard line. Bud Scribner made a beautiful runback only to have the play nullified and called back.

The Bucs then produced their vaunted passing offense when Cal Vargas pitched out to Frank Koontz for 40 yards. The Panthers defense quickly tightened up and held out the Bucs. Profit kicked on the last down to place the ball out of immediate scoring range.

Again the brick wall held out for the Bucs and forced the Panthers to kick and turn the ball over to the Bucs on their own 49 yard line. The tough Panther defense prevented any large ground gains by the Bucs and came up on the good side of a Campbell fumble. The Panthers failed to take advantage of the fumble when the battling Bucs recovered an ill-timed fumble by Montes. Campbell gained only 4 yards before the half time gun went off.

In the third quarter the Panthers came back strong with a fine pass offense which netted them 35 yards on a pitch-out from Ron Cachopo to the right half Jerry Statham. Once again the experienced Campbell line of Profit, Browne, Prnjak, Cordova, and Salvano stopped the Panthers cold. Cachopo kicked safely to the Campbell 29 yard line where the Bucs took over. A fumble by Jim Corbus was recovered by Gresham of the Panthers who failed to penetrate the Bucs line for more than 2 yards and finally were pushed back 15 yards by some beautiful tackling by Hec Cordova. The Panthers were forced to kick on their last down but upon receiving the ball, the Bucs began to gain yardage in wholesale lots.

Gene Bowen, Bud Scribner, and Cal Vargas combined to pick up three first downs before the Panther line settled down and stopped the Bucs drive on their own 20 yard line. On the fourth down kick Mike Profit placed the pigskin on the Santa Clara 40 yard line. Campbell intercepted a short pass only to be held to 4 yards by the Panther line. The quarter ended with Santa Clara receiving the ball.

Panthers Threaten

In the fourth quarter the Panthers presented the only scoring threat when a pass receiver ran 45 yards in an open field only to slip and fall on the Bucs 10 yard line. The brick wall Bucs were ready for the next play and hit the ball carrier so hard he fumbled the ball and the Bucs recovered to stop a very determined touchdown drive. The fourth quarter play was centered in the middle of the field with neither team giving nor taking more than a few feet at a time.

Bob Lister, who had not been gaining much yardage against the Bucs all night was injured in the closing minutes of the game and was taken out. The final gun went off with neither team having advanced inside the others 10 yard line. Campbell chalked up more first downs than Santa Clara did but also was penalized more times which made them about even in the ground gaining column.

Scout Council Offers Leader Training Course

Dr. Levi Gilbert, Chairman of the Leadership Training Committee of the Santa Clara County Council, Boy Scouts of America, announces the opening of the Fall University of Scouting, being offered to the 2500 adult volunteers of the movement in the Council.

Four training courses will start Thursday, at 7:30 P.M. at the Herbert Hoover Junior High School, and continue for five consecutive Thursdays. This program is in joint sponsirship with the Adult Education Dept. of the San Jose Unified School System.

The four courses being offered are: Cubber Basic: Scouter Basic: Explorer Basic: and the Advanced Scouter Course. Leaders of the courses and the local Council Staff member assigned to instruct are: Joe Rose, volunteer and Ted Rogers, professional: Jack Havey Sr., volunteer and Ralph Libby, professional: Ken Provan, volunteer and Don Gray, professional; and Allen Gerblick, volunteer and Harold Alexander, professional.

It is anticipated that 350 adult volunteers from the Council will be in attendance. These training courses provide an opportunity for the leaders to develop better techniques and methods of leadership to youth through "learning by doing" and sharing ideas on successful methods used.

Any leaders of youth groups in the area and others interested in youth programming are invited to attend these training sessions.

Game Tomorrow

Buc Gridders Meet Washington Here

The Buccaneers of Campbell High will see official league action again tomorrow afternoon when they meet the Washington eleven at the Campbell High field at 3 p.m.

Last year the Washington club didn't pose much of a threat to the Bucs as the 25-0 score in Campbell's favor clearly shows but Coach Jim Muir knows that last year's score doesn't necessarily mean that this year's game will be a push over.

"Every game this season will be tough" he claims. Washington uses the single wing offense with the team composed of last year's veterans on the offense. Coach Muir also reported that the man to watch on the Washington club will be Bachman, a fleet back, who carried the ball 29 out of 30 times last year for the most yardage gained.

Washington lost their opener 14-13 which proves they aren't to be taken lightly but the battling Bucs will be out to run the score into the double column after last week's scoreless tilt with Santa Clara.

Los Gatos JV's Take Campbell In Grid Battle

Short punches after drives and a 43 yard punt return by Von Alvensleben gave Los Gatos Junior Varsity football team a 20 to 6 victory over Campbell at the Buccaneer field last Thursday.

Campbell scored first on Jim Flaherty's 28 yard run through tackle after Al Winters intercepted a pass on the Campbell 35 and ran it back to the Los Gatos 40. It took four plays to score most of the yardage covered by Flaherty.

Campbell's offense was stymied by the loss of Bob Whitewing, who suffered a cleat cut over his eye in the second quarter.

Campbell travels to Willow Glen today for a league tussle with the kickoff slated for 3:30 p.m.

Bank of America Offers Statewide Award Program

Roland Risso, manager of Bank of America's Cambrian Park branch has announced that again this year the statewide bank is offering its Achievement Awards program, under which $44,900 in cash prizes are awarded annually to outstanding California high high school seniors.

Risso said approximately 560 high schools with more than 125,000 senior students enrolled are expected to participate. In addition to 372 cash awards from $25 to $1,000 there will be more than 5,000 trophies, certificates and ribbons.

In the program's nine-year history, awards totaling nearly a a quarter-million dollars have been made to more than 1000 young persons. Winners may use the money for any purpose, but Risso said experience has shown that most of them defray college expenses with it.

The program's purpose, he added, is to honor scholastic achievement and cizitenship and promise of service to society.

The selection process begins with the high schools themselves in February. School winners then advance to zone competitions in April. Final judging is held and top awards made in May.

Four major fields of study are covered: science and mathematics, fine arts, liberal arts and vocational arts.

State Buildings Planned

Voter Approval of Proposition "3" To Benefit this Area by $45 Million

Voter approval of Proposition '3' on the November 6 ballot will be the key to almost $45,000,000 worth of state institutional building construction in the central coast counties area during the next five years, according to State Department of Finance plans.

This is almost 10 per cent of the total $448,000,000 five-year state building program to relieve present overcrowding and provide for an anticipated 61 per cent increase in state institutional populations.

The November ballot proposal calls for a $200,000,000 bond issue to provide for that part of the total building program that cannot be financed from current revenues without a tax increase. Its purpose is to spread the construction cost over a 25-year perod, during which time the tax base of the state is expected to broaden sufficiently to absorb the expenditure, according to Governor Goodwin J. Knight.

Among the are institutions to be aided by the building program are San Jose State College, $29,000,000; Agnews State Hospital, $12,000,000; Soledad State Prison, $1,304,760; and Lick Observatory of the University of California, $241,000.

A $1,369,000 state office buliding is to be constructed in San Jose. Additional projects within the area include $725,000 worth of Division of Forestry projects, and $416,000 worth Military Department construction, consisting principally of new state armories.

The building program is particularly important to the California State Colleges, which look forward to a tidal wave of students. From 36,000 students last year they must be prepared to enroll 196,000 by 1965, according to the State Department of Education.

"Quarters" Invites Public on Sunday To Open House

An open house for the new volunteer sponsored "Quarters" in Santa Clara will be held on Sunday, October 14, from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. "The Quarters" is located at 854 Jackson St., Santa Clara.

"The Quarters' is a home offered to patients on leave of absence from Agnews State Hospital where they may live up to 12 weeks while making their adjustment both emotionally and financially from the hospital to the community.

Sponsored by the Rehabilitation Planning Committee of the Agnew State Hospital Volunteer Services, the home has been furnished by volunteer donations and is being financed by a Federal grant of $18,050 and $6,500 from the San Francisco Foundation, a private philanthropy.

LAWYER ADDRESSES SARATOGA KIWANIS

Bob Morgan, noted trial lawyer from the area, spoke to the Quito-Saratoga club last week on why lawyers have poor public relations.

Yesterday the club heard a speech by Frank Dunn of the California committee opposed to proposition four. Dunn is vice-chairman of the Alameda County Board of Supervisors,

According to the club's bulletin, "Noise," the name of the organization will be changed from Quito-Saratoga Kiwanis to just plain Saratoga Kiwanis.

First National Shows Big Growth in Year

The First National Bank of San Jose shows in its Statement of Condition dated September 26, 1956 a growth of $8,415,000 over October 5, 1955.

This represents a growth of over 11 per cent and brings the total resouces to $82,529,000, the highest figures ever published. This also represents a growth of over $6 million since June 30 of this year.

Deposits increased nearly $8 million over October, 1955 and loan and discounts increased $6,429,000. Surplus has increased by 17 per cent and the Capital Funds amounted to $3,900,000.

Danger Travels Highway at Dusk

"Our highest traffic accident frequency period is between 3 and 7 p.m. with the peak coming between 4 and 6" declared Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell. "With the end of daylight saving our high frequency period will again involve the additional hazards of dusk.

Safe driving at dusk requires obedience to the speed limits, the headlight regulations and cooperation with the other driver and pedestrian," Caldwell continued. "Drive at a reasonable speed, turn on the headlights not the parking lights and stay alert for pedestrians and disobedient drivers to reduce the traffic accident potential while driving at dusk."
